President On Way To Home State

Plane Expected To Arrive in Kansas City About 6:25 p. m. Today

WASHINGTON, Sept. 14—(P)—President Truman took off from the National Airport at 1:37 p. m. EWT, today on a flight to Missouri for a weekend with his home folks.

The President and Mrs. Truman boarded the big Presidential C-54, the "Sacred Cow" with Senate Majority Leader Barkley, who planned to ride with them as far as Paducah, Ky., where he will disembark for a home state speech.

The schedule called for the arrival of the plane at the Paducah airport at 3:50 p. m. CWT. Another stop was scheduled for Scott Field, Ill., where Miss Reathel Odum, Mrs. Truman's secretary, will leave the plane for an Illinois vacation.

Upon arrival at Kansas City, about 6:25 p. m., CWT, the president and Mrs. Truman will drive to their old white frame home at Independence, a dozen miles away.

They will spend Friday and Saturday nights there and make at least one trip to nearby rural Grandview for a visit with the president's mother, 92 year old Mrs. Martha Truman.

Members of Party
Mrs. Alvin J. Accola of New York, a former Independence resident and long-time friend of the Trumans, will make the round trip flight with the party, which also includes Miss Rose Conway, the president's personal secretary. The president plans to return to Washington at 6:50 p. m., EWT, Sunday. Mrs. Truman will remain in Independence for several days.

Last minute additions to the presidential party included Rep. Gregory (D-Ky) who was going as far as Paducah with Senator Barkley and Col. Howard Rusk of St. Louis, deputy surgeon general for the air forces, who will leave the plane at Scott Field.

The president was in a gay mood as he mounted the steps of the plane and posed with Mrs. Truman and Barkley.

After he took his seat inside the big airliner he waved to cameramen and, noticing a newsreel man, made a motion with his hands as if making pictures.

Luxurious Plane
WASHINGTON, Sept. 14—(P)—The Douglas elevator-equipped plane used by President Truman is the same luxury ship that flew the late President Roosevelt to Yalta.

The C-54 Skymaster, built last year, has its battery-operated elevator aft of the main passenger loading door. The ship carries 15 persons and sleeps six. The president's private stateroom is seven and one-half by 12 feet and has seating room, provided by a sofa and two folding chairs, for seven persons.

Within easy reach are a magazine rack, oxygen mask, reading lights and a telephone which connects with the pilot's compartment and three other sleeping sections. There is an adjoining lavatory.

A conference table for the president's use has the great seal of the United States inlaid on its wooden top. Countersunk ash receivers are at the four corners.

Walls Decorated
Walls are of tan gabardine and leather. On them are four maps, a picture of an old-time sailing vessel and four instruments to indicate air speed, altitude, direction and time.

The upholstery is of all-wool blue worsted. The blue gabardine draperies are embroidered with army, navy, coast guard and marine corps insignia.

The plane carried the president's 92-year-old mother, Mrs. Martha Truman, from Kansas City to Washington to spend last Mother's day in the White House and took the president to the San Francisco conference. Last September it brought Mme. Chiang Kai-shek from Rio De Janeiro to New York.

As on former trips, the plane was piloted by Col. Henry T. Meyers. Capt. Elmer F. Smith is co-pilot.

Bothwell Hospital Notes
Mrs. Albert Newman, 523 West Third street and Arthur Bishop, 3101 N. 10th, admitted for medical treatment.

Cecil L. Herms, 1014, 3 year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Luther Herms, admitted for tonsillitis.

Mrs. Robert V. Wilcox, Smith-ton, dismissed.

DETROIT, Sept. 14—(P)—The Ford Motor company said today that because of strikes against "many of our supplies" it was laying off 9,400 men indefinitely.

Former Sedalian Has Services Here

Rev. William S. Dixon, of Dallas, Texas, arrived in Sedalia Thursday, and is enjoying seeing old friends. He was born and reared here, and is the son of W. O. B. Dixon now deceased. He has spent twenty-four years in revival meetings with Baptist churches all over the nation, being an ordained Baptist evangelist. This is a little open time from busy datings with Baptist churches in Missouri and Kansas. He is staying at the Bothwell hotel, and will be here for one week.

70,000 Out of Jobs by War Plant Layoffs

About 45,000 of Tht Number are Seeking Jobs

JEFFERSON CITY, Sept. 14—(P)—About 70,000 Missourians have been thrown out of jobs by war plant cutbacks since V-J Day a month ago but thus far no unemployment crisis has developed. Most of the 70,000—about 45,000—are classified by Frank M. Bristow, state manpower director, as actively seeking jobs. Of the remaining 25,000, an estimated 15,000 are women who are expected to return to their household and retire from the labor market. The rest are probably vacationing on their wartime earnings. At least they aren't looking for work.

The rub is that right now the U. S. employment service has 25,600 job openings in the state. About 60 per cent of them, however, call for unskilled labor and pay much lower wages than war plants—packing house work, food processing and other heavy labor.

Some Will Shop Around
It may take some time to absorb all of the 45,000 who are looking for work. Many of them picked up mechanical skills during the war, turning out tanks, guns, shells, planes and other arms. USES officials report these workers are inclined to shop around for jobs comparable to the ones they held during the war. Many are reluctant to go back to the unskilled labor they did before 1942.

War Manpower officials expect employment conditions to remain about static until the first of the year. They figure it will be February or later before all the new construction that has been planned can get under way. And it may be six months or more before automobile plants and other factories get into the full swing of peacetime production.

Cities Hardest Hit
So far the employment service has had plenty of good jobs for the 2,800 returning service men who have sought work. Many of them, too, are shopping around to find permanent jobs before picking up the threads of their pre-war lives.

Production cutbacks since V-J Day have hit the Kansas City and St. Louis areas the hardest. Of the 70,000 persons laid off, 35,000 were in the St. Louis area, 32,000 in the Kansas City area and only 3,000 in all the rest of the state.

Former Doctor Of Jap Army Kills Himself

Kneels Before Shrine, Slashes Stomach Open

By Morrie Landsberg
TOKYO, Sept. 14—(P)—Lt. Gen. Chikahiko Koizumi, one time yes-man for war lord Hideki Tojo, committed hara kiri shortly before last midnight — the first of the Japanese military chieftains named by General MacArthur as "wanted" by the Allies to take his life by the traditional method. Koizumi, former surgeon general of the Japanese army and welfare minister at the time of the Pearl Harbor attack, was number nine on the list of potential war criminals General MacArthur listed for arrest.

A bachelor, 61 years old, Koizumi lived in a traditional Japanese style house in the Yodobashi district of northwest Tokyo with an elder brother, two nephews and a sister. Last night he retired before the others.

Quite a Ceremonial
Some time after the rest of the household was in bed, the former army doctor arose and dressed himself in a ceremonial kimono and lighted candles at each side of his Buddhist shrine.

Then kneeling before the shrine he slashed open his stomach with a short army sword, then cut the jugular vein and died almost instantly.

Members of the family said he had given no hint of his intention when he said he was going to rest and had left no note. The body, which was found by Koizumi's nephews, will be cremated Saturday.

Poultry Show On October 5

A program to further scientific management of poultry and poultry methods will be held at the Armory, October 5, on what will be designated as Poultry Improvement Day. It is being sponsored by the county extension agent, lumber dealers, hatcheries, poultry equipment dealers and feed dealers.

The program is to open at 10:00 o'clock in the morning and continue until 3:00 o'clock in the afternoon.

The committee in charge is composed of: Ben Kropp, chairman, Mrs. Anna Bagby, R. M. Johns, S. J. Timbrious and Cline Cain.

Boundary Line To be Settled

TOPEKA, Sept. 14—(P)—Members of the Kansas Interstate operation commission today possibly will consider a settlement of the existing boundary dispute between Missouri and Kansas. A. B. Mitchell, attorney general and member of the commission, said today.

Mitchell said the last Kansas legislature had asked the commission to investigate tracts of land involved in dispute, and the Missouri legislature had made a similar move.

"The commission might appoint a sub-committee this afternoon to meet with the Missouri delegation at the site of the disputes," Mitchell said.

'Forget Pearl Harbor' Japs Tell America

By Russell Brines

TOKYO, Sept. 14—(P)—Premier Prince Nigashi-Kuni called upon the people of America to build "a completely new, peaceful" nation, in an exclusive statement today to the Associated Press.

"America has won and Japan has lost," the premier wrote in answer to a letter from the Associated Press. "The war is ending. Let us now bury hate. This has been my policy since organization of the present cabinet."

"People of America — won't you forget Pearl Harbor; we Japanese people will forget the picture of devastation wrought by the atomic bomb and will start entirely anew as a peace-loving nation."

The premier, whose entire public life heretofore has been spent in the army, promised that "the Japanese people will for the first time enjoy freedom of expression by the militaristic clique" as the freedo mof speech and of the press are gradually extended.

The prince recently publicly solicited a letter of criticism and suggestion from the people and promised an answer whenever possible — an unprecedented promise in Japan's history.

The Associated Press took him at his word and sent a letter containing ten questions and received a nine-page letter of reply within 24 hours.

Send Ships to Get Prisoners

OMINATO ANCHORAGE, Japan, Sept. 14—(P)—Three ships of the North Pacific fleet were dispatched this afternoon to Hakodate to evacuate 350 Allied prisoners of war from central Hokkaido camps, after rain and heavy fog prevented ready movement of transport airplanes.

Rescue vessels are the American escort carrier Kitkun Bay and destroyer Howarth and the British destroyer Barleur, temporarily attached to this north Pacific force. They will take prisoners aboard at Hakodate, 120 miles north of Ominato, tomorrow morning, then steam directly for Yokohama.

Whether Marine Lt. Col. James P. S. Devereux of Wake Island fame would be with the evacuated contingent was not known here although naval officers presumed the would be. Devereux had planned to take a train for Chitose, prisoner evacuation center, and leave there today by air, but bad weather closed in.

The three ships were dispatched at the request of Maj. Lyman B. Sutter, Long Beach, Calif., of the Eighth army, in charge of the Chitose evacuation center.

Poplar Bluff Sanitary Officer Indicted by U. S. Grand Jury

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 14—(P)—Claude E. Murray, city sanitary engineer of Poplar Bluff, was indicted for perjury today by the federal grand jury.

The indictment charged Murray committed the perjury July 12 in a contempt of court hearing at which he was directed by U. S. Judge Rubey Hulen to show cause why he should not obey a court order which restrained him from interfering with office of price administration agents in their inspection of frozen food lockers at Poplar Bluff.

One Dead, One Wounded Near Platte City

Shooting Takes Place After Attempt To Rob Station

PLATTE CITY, Mo., Sept. 14—(P)—A man tentatively identified by Platte county coroner Tom Hulet as Jack H. Tietz, 21, Winona, Minn., was fatally shot and his companion, Corp. Norval Smith 21, was wounded, following the attempted burglary early this morning of a service station two miles north of here on Highway 71.

Platte county sheriff Don Myers gives this account of the shooting: "The filling station, owned by Tom Perry has been entered several times lately, and Perry decided to stay there to watch for further attempts."

About 1 a. m. today he heard someone enter, and taking his .38 revolver went to the first floor. He switched on the lights and found two men unarmed, whom he marched to a car waiting in front. The three headed for Platte City, one he identified as Tietz driving.

At the junction of Highways 71 and 92 Tietz said, "Let us go or I am going to kill all of us," and started speeding toward Leavenworth. Perry pulled the keys from the ignition switch and when the car came to a stop walked the men to the nearby state highway garage at Tracy.

Shot Three Times
There he called for Tom Hartman, the night watchman. While standing at the door of the garage Tietz pulled a flatiron from his overalls and threw it at Perry, grazing Perry's head. Perry shot three times, hitting Tietz twice in the chest and once in the arm. He died instantly.

Smith started to run, and Perry shot at him, wounding him in the leg. Smith surrendered and was taken to the Platte county jail.

According to coroner Hulet, Tietz was identified by a girl friend said to be living in Leavenworth. His overalls contained four pocketbooks with four different names, one of which was Tietz.

Smith was visiting his wife in Leavenworth on furlough from Camp Carson, Colo.

Sedalian Indicted By Federal Grand Jury

Heavy Work Day for United Nations Group

Balkans Continue As the Main Point of Tension

LONDON, Sept. 14—(P)—Foreign ministers of the five leading Allied Nations resumed drafting of a peace treaty for Italy today as Egypt dispatched notes asking control of the greater part of the adjoining Italian colony of Cirenaica.

The Balkans continued as the main point of tension.

A slightly better atmosphere was created by the disclosure that the Russian-Romanian agreement paring down Romanian reparations was negotiated with the knowledge of the Allied control commission in Bucharest. Concern had been expressed that Russia had acted alone.

King Peter of Yugoslavia was reported encouraged by his talk with Secretary of State James F. Byrnes, in which he urged the United States to help broaden the Yugoslav government and assure democratic elections.

Another Balkan monarch in exile, George II of Greece, hustled back from a vacation in Scotland to confer with the Greek regent, Archbishop Damaskinos. The regent talked to Byrnes yesterday.

A heavy working day was before the ministers of the United States, Russia, Great Britain, China and France. A heavy volume of diplomatic communications flowed to and from them in their labors to conclude peace treaties.

Studying Proposed Treaty
British foreign minister Ernest Bevin has presented a proposal for an Italian peace treaty which is being studied by the other foreign secretaries, and the British and Americans are pressing for consideration of an Italian treaty immediately.

The Russians, who have agreed to consider the Italian treaty first, now are reported arguing that the treaties with the former Axis satellite states in the Balkans, Romania, Bulgaria and Hungary, should be given just as prompt attention.

The British and Americans were said to hold that they could not discuss the Balkan treaties as long as these nations are ruled by governments unrecognized by London and Washington.

U. S. Secretary of State James F. Byrnes has summoned his Balkan experts, possibly in anticipation of an impasse on the issue. Soviet foreign commissar Vyacheslav M. Molotov and Bevin also were reported meeting their advisers.

Conferred With King Peter
Byrnes was busy yesterday with another aspect of the Balkan problem. He conferred with King Peter of Yugoslavia and regent Archbishop Damaskinos of Greece, reportedly hearing their protests against plans for projected elections in their countries. Both were said to have asked U. S. aid in having the voting postponed holding that democratic balloting was not yet assured.

While the British and Americans debate with the Russians over the Balkans, French foreign minister Georges Bidault is pressing the French plea for a decision on delineation of Germany's western frontiers, and Chinese foreign minister Wang Shih-Chieh prepared proposals concerning Asia.

'Conversation' Theme of Talk

In connection with a golf tournament among the Columbia, Boonville and Sedalia Kiwanis club teams, the Sedalia Kiwanis Club held its weekly meeting and dinner Thursday night at the Sedalia Country Club instead of at noon.

Because of the rainy weather the teams played but nine holes finishing as follows: Columbia 38, Boonville 61; Sedalia 63.

President Clyde Heynen extended greetings to members of the visiting clubs.

Following the dinner B. J. Cullen presided over the program and introduced Col. A. M. Hitch, head of Kemper Military Academy, Boonville, who gave an interesting talk on "Conservation."

M. U. Tigers Stop In Sedalia Today

COLUMBIA, Mo., Sept. 14—(P)—Rain kept the M. U. Tigers indoors yesterday for the fourth consecutive drill as they completed preparation for the "B" team game with Warrensburg Teachers college at Warrensburg tonight.

Coach Chauncey Simpson will take 35 men to Warrensburg today, stopping at Sedalia for lunch. The remainder of the squad will continue work this afternoon under Coach Herb Bunker and Tom Botts, preparing for next week's varsity opener with Minnetonka.

Scalp Lacerated As Car Overturns

C. A. Mathieson, of 912 West Fifth street, manager of the Town and Country Shoe company plant, figured in an automobile accident but escaped serious injury about 4:30 o'clock Thursday afternoon when the 1941 Buick coupe he was driving went off the highway on a curve two miles west of Dresden. He was returning to Sedalia from Warrensburg where the company also has a plant.

The highway there is blacktop and in the drizzling rain became slippery. While he was not driving at over forty miles an hour the car left the pavement and overturned damaging the fenders and the wheels were sprung.

Mr. Mathieson sustained a lacerated scalp. After being given attention by Dr. M. P. Shy at the Bothwell hospital he went to his home.

The car was towed into Sedalia.

Character of Japanese is Stripped Bare

Americans Should Understand Them, Says Wainwright

NEW YORK, Sept. 14—(P)—Japanese character today lay stripped bare by a man who knows it well — Gen. Jonathan M. Wainwright.

He demanded neither "a soft occupation nor a soft peace."

"The Japanese can be subversive. They can be pleasant and cooperative if it suits their purpose," he said last night at a dinner given in his honor after a wild reception in New York's streets.

"But the men who were captured on Bataan and Corregidor," he said, "have seen the Japanese character in the raw."

"They have seen what Japanese soldiers do when they are on top and I think all of us who lived through tortured days are determined they shall never be on top again."

"It is important now what happened to me . . ." said the drawn, tired general, who spent 39 months in a Japanese prison camp after the hopeless days of Bataan and Corregidor.

Should Understand Japs
"But I think it is very important that the American people understand the nature of this people we have beaten back to their poor earth."

"I have seen the Japanese as they are — with the veneer stripped off. I shall bear the scars of those years all my life, and I could not forget them if I would."

"I have come to know the cunning with which they conceal their true nature. And how quickly it leaps forth when there is no immediate chance of retaliation. . . ."

"The Japanese are not sorry for what they have done to countless thousands in the populations of countries they have overrun."

No Regrets
"They are not sorry for the torture they have inflicted on American soldiers. It simply would not occur to them to be sorry, because they have done nothing which is at variance with their accepted philosophy."

"That is the point which should be clearly understood. I am a soldier and so do not pretend to know how long will be required or by what steps the bestial elements in their nature can be eradicated. But until we are assured that these qualities have been extinguished — not simply submerged — then the Japanese nation, powerless as it is today to make war, will remain a menace to our world."

FSA Office Open Five Days a Week

The administrative work week for all employees of the Farm Security Administration will be five days of eight hours each Monday through Friday. The Pettis County office of the FSA will be closed all day on Saturday beginning September 15, 1945, according to Oscar H. DeWolf, Pettis County FSA Supervisor. This revision of the work week is in compliance with official notification received by the Pettis county FSA office Monday of this week. The regular office day will continue to be Monday of each week from 8:00 a. m. to 12:00 noon and from 1:00 p. m. to 5:00 p. m., Mr. DeWolf added.

Occupation Could End In One Year

That is if People Of Japan Continue To Act as They Do, Lt. Gen. Declares

Allied occupation of Japan could end in a year, Lt. Gen. Robert L. Eichelberger, commander of U. S. Eighth Army occupation forces, estimated today—but whatever the duration, the surrender terms "aren't soft and they won't be applied in kid glove fashion." General MacArthur asserted in a formal statement.

MacArthur asserted that critics of his "so-called soft policy" had an "erroneous concept" of his preliminary program — which he said must continue until Japan is disarmed about mid-October.

Simultaneously he suspended all operations of the Japanese Domei news agency. The Japanese government meanwhile speeded its roundup of Japanese and other orientals he wanted for questioning.

Eichelberger, in a press conference, asserted that "when an insular country loses its land, sea and air power, and is without raw materials and has big countries sitting on its flanks, it can't be much of a threat."

"I say that if the Japanese continue to act as they are now acting, within a year this thing should be washed up."

Should be Building
That period should include any necessary rebuilding, he said, reporting that some of the units being sent to Japan for specialized jobs might not be needed and might be released. For example, orders for U. S. railroad troops were cancelled, he said, since Japanese railroads were in good condition and docks and shorelines similarly will not need the work of American specialist units.

Discussing spreading of occupation forces through Japan, he said that Maj. Gen. Oscar W. Griswold, commander of the 14th corps, was establishing headquarters at Sendai to the north, and an airborne division would follow him by train tomorrow.

The 27th division also will move north to the Nagato area within a few days, he said, and occupation of Hokkaido by the Ninth corps, commanded by Maj. Gen. Charles Ryder, will begin about Sept. 27 with headquarters at Sapporo.

Surrender Step by Step
Procedure to be followed in the war crimes trials, he said, is "up to the war crimes commission in Washington."

MacArthur's statement said that after the completion of his preliminary program about mid-October, "other phases as provided in the surrender terms will infallibly follow."

Ceremonial hara kiri today wiped from General MacArthur's "wanted" list the name of Lt. Gen. Chikahiko Koizumi, wartime henchman of dictator Hideki Tojo.

The Japanese government reported that it already had rounded up most of the two-score officers sought, and informed U. S. Eight army headquarters that they would be turned over to American authorities whenever desired.

Japs Should Know
MacArthur today directed that the people of Japan be given the full story of atrocities for which some of the men wanted are blamed. The beheadings of American fliers, the death march from Bataan, cannibalism in New Guinea, beating and mistreatment of prisoners of war. Brig. Gen. Bonner F. Fellers said that Japanese newspapers agreed to carry full details, although MacArthur issued no direct order.

"The Japanese people didn't know about these atrocities, and we want to tell them," Fellers explained. He termed it the start of a program "to educate the Japanese people in the acts of their military."

HILDRETH'S house was dark.
Thayer tried the door, shook the knob. She cried, "Aunt Hildreth—Aunt Hildreth. You've got to be here—you've got to." She was crying now, unaware of it.
She pounded again. "Oh, Aunt Hildreth, open the door. Please
..." She did not see a blind tipped in the house adjoining; she was too ill to notice or to care.
One terrible realization was paramount—Hildreth's absence. Maybe—just maybe, she had gone over to see Brock... By the time the woman next door had come downstairs to make inquiry, Thayer had got into her car and was driving toward home.
Once more she let herself in.
The house was dark and quiet.
It must be late, very late. She crept up the long stairs, holding to the bannister. She was sinking down on her bed before she realized that the telephone was downstairs. And she had to telephone—yes, telephone.
But she couldn't move. She could only lie there, frightened and despairing, trying to push away the knowledge that was closing in upon her relentlessly.
It must have been hours later when she called Mrs. Kittridge.
She called several times before the words came out loudly enough.
She looked up with dull eyes when her mother-in-law finally stood in the room. "What is it, Thayer? You were dreaming;
you called out."
"I—I feel very ill. I wonder if you'd phone Dr. Lacey."
"Now, at this hour?"
"Yes—please."
"Let me get you something.
Thayer, Brock went to bed with one of his headaches. The phone is right by his door. If I disturb him..."

4. They must find that there are jobs for them when they return home, and that the various benefits and loans supposed to be available are actually to be had without going through months of government red tape.
5. They must be shown that the so-called preference they are supposed to have in the purchase of surplus material from the army and the navy actually works.
Thus far it hasn't.
For instance, thousands of veterans are now trying to purchase jeeps, trucks and other surplus items. But they find their applications frequently so delayed that eventually they go out and buy from dealers at higher prices.
Servicemen are puzzled about President Truman, because they thought that as a result of his experience in the last war and his chairmanship of the Truman committee, he would be able to stand up against army-navy brass hats. But they are getting disillusioned.
Simultaneously, Republicans are licking their chops with joy.
Merry-Go-Round
Congresswoman Margaret Chase
Smith of Maine has added her voice to Senator Langer's to get a change in the navy enlisted success. Apparently Forrestal is Labor's foreign policy. Signs increase that it will be just as reactionary as Churchill's. For instance, Prime Minister Attlee first offered the Washington ambassadorship to Sir John Anderson, former lord president of the council and one of the worst appeasers in Britain. It was Sir John who, shortly before the war, opposed constructing air raid shelters for civilians. When Anderson declined the ambassadorship, Halifax was reappointed... Gen. Dan Sulton is back from China to promote a big credit for the Chinese government. It will run into real money—if the Truman administration goes for the idea of making China virtually an American colony... It was a hush-hush secret during the war, but can now be revealed that several U. S.

navy and coast guard ships were turned over to Russia at Cold Bay, Alaska.
One secret reason for the row between ex-Attorney General
Biddle and ex-Assistant Attorney General Norman Littell was the purchase of land for atomic bomb production near Pasco, Wash. The army's manner of taking over the land was not according to the rules and Littell objected. Biddle, because of atomic bomb secrecy, sided with the army...
Judge Sam Rosenman is scheduled to be Truman's number one adviser on all foreign relief plus all loans and credit to foreign governments... The feud between naval reserve and the Annapolis men is now hotter than ever. If Suddenly she was aware of the

JEFFERSON CITY, Sept. 14—
(P)—Back to the Missouri legislature came the "small loan" battle Thursday. It was ushered in quietly just as the body was adjourning for the week-end.

The bill, introduced by Reps.
George Munger (D) of Stoddard county and J. S. N. Farquhar (R) of Cape Girardeau county, would scale interest rates on loans in the following categories:
Loans up to $50—not more than 2 1/2 per cent a month interest.
From $50 to $300—not more than 1 1/2 per cent a month.
From $300 to $1,000—not more than 7 per cent a year.
All loans of $1,000 or more, or any other type not specifically mentioned—not more than 8 per cent a year.

It specifically declares that in addition to the interest rate on the loan, there shall be no examination, brokerage or commission directly or indirectly charged by the lender. Violation would be a misdemeanor.

At an amphibious base in the Pacific—Laurence Neale Dotson, motor machinist's mate, 1/C, 919 West Seventh street, this city, is serving with his repair and training base which supplied troops and landing craft for major invasions in the Marshalls, the Gilberts and at Okinawa.

Carrying a 24-hour, seven-day-a-week schedule, his unit maintained all types of landing and assault equipment and repair supplies. The base also trained personnel in amphibious communications, minesweeping and camouflage operations.

SOMEWHERE IN THE PACIFIC—Lt. (j. g.) Jessie E. Walters, USNR, whose wife lives at Gravois Mills, Mo., and Cheyenne Wells, Colo., took part in a dual celebration aboard his Pacific aircraft carrier, the USS Intrepid, on August 16. The officers and men of this famed warship celebrated the victory in the Pacific and the observance of the ship's second year in service.

Jimmy Stark, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Stark, who is with an anti-aircraft company in Hawaii, has been promoted to the rank of technical sergeant, according to information received by his parents of Green Ridge.

Saves Ship From Watery Grave

White pumps work furiously disgorging water from her hold, the U. S. S. Pennsylvania sinks dangerously low following an aerial torpedo hit on her starboard quarter during action off Okinawa, August 12. This was the first major damage inflicted on the ship since Pearl Harbor and it took all the skill and determination of the crew to close the gaping hole in the "Pennsy's" side and keep the ship afloat. Hose leading into the gun barrels were used to pump water from the vessel's flooded compartment.

Lone Oak Busy Bee Club Meets

Marine, in Prison Camp, Has Time to Write Varied Poetry

By Hal Boyle

YOKOSUKA NAVAL BASE in Japan—(P)—Oscar, the Marine poet laureate of Ashiro prison camp, was alternately humorous, cynical, sentimental and homesick in his verse.

His poetry, whose only published outlet so far is a memory book kept by Oscar during two and a half years in prison camp, reflects the mental attitudes and alternating moods of his fellow prisoners.

Oscar comes from a small town and served six years in the Marines. I can't give his full name until the navy forwards word to his next of kin that he is alive, free and well. His most romantic poem is only six lines long: "Picture a sunset in a setting of blue, "Picture a rose petal covered with dew, "And you have a picture, "Of the beauty that lies "In the unfathomed depths "Of my loved one's eyes."

True to poetic tradition, Oscar didn't give away the lady's name. One of his more philosophic poems, "Life's Chance," was written in the Philippines before his captors brought him to Japan. It goes:

"When life's moments are particularly trying, "And everything seems to go wrong, "Man should not seek for a shelter, "It's time for him to be strong."

More popular among his friends was a brief song entitled: "Come Home" that carried this refrain:

"How happy I will be, "When someone says to me, "It's all over now, "Come home."

The theme of home runs through the majority of Oscar's poems—but he had more than one string to his poetic bow.

Used Japanese Words

He learned some Japanese words and wrote this galloping piece about the Japanese character around the camp:

"A coolie in a kittyhew "With Kurra and Kanami. "I know what he is wishing for "It's rye bread and salami. "A coolie in a kittyhew loading up a roro

"I know what he's wishing for "It's yasume tomorrow. "He don't want no daikon. "He don't want no komi. "All he wants is meat balls "On a pile of macaroni."

A Popular One

That one had a wide audience. Anything mentioning food was sure to find favor among the hungry camp population. The very sound of the names of different foods sounded like bells.

Oscar wrote a song and a poem on the ending of the war.

The song, "On the Friendly Shore," ends: "On the Friendly Shore "I will hang my hat and say "I won't roam no more, "Cause I'm where I want to stay. "You can have your army, navy and Marine corps, "I don't want 'em. "I just want to stay on the Friendly Shore."

Family Moves To California

S/Sgt. W. D. VanNess returned last week from France where he served as a radio operator on a troop carrier transport the past 18 months. His 104 points were responsible for his discharge after 46 months' service.

Accompanied by his wife and baby son, David, he left for the state of California to make his home.

Mrs. VanNess is the daughter of Mrs. Orpha Wheeler, 408 East Thirteenth street. Mrs. Wheeler's son, Sterling Wheeler, seaman first class, is stationed at Vallejo, Calif., and S/Sgt. Lewis Wheeler

Mayor Wilks In Wrong Hat

Mayor A. H. Wilks had a new type of caller at the city hall this afternoon — a man from Kansas City whose hat the mayor walked off with by mistake from the Coffee Shop of the Bothwell hotel today at noon. The caller didn't see the mayor but just walked in, took his hat from the hat rack, left the mayor's and departed. The mayor was in another office in the building when the Kansas Citian called.

Shortly after dinner two neatly dressed gentlemen got up from their table and one man rather worriedly said: "Someone's walked off with my hat." After a search of the dining room he found one hat, the same size as his own, but it wasn't his.

Then someone sitting nearby suggested he look inside for a name or something. Looking at the hat band he noted the initials "A. H. W." Then the party who made the first suggestion said: "Maybe it's the mayor's hat." The cashier called Mayor Wilks and it was then he learned he had taken the wrong hat.

The Kansas Citian said he would call at the city hall for his hat. He did, but he didn't wait to see the mayor.

It was suggested that maybe the mayor got a good Kansas City Democrat's bonnet.

Aged Man Falls Dead Thursday

An aged man attired in a dark blue suit, having three pairs of pants, one pair tied around his neck, was seen to fall dead near the Rock Island railway station, two miles north of Cole Camp about 4 o'clock Thursday afternoon.

It is believed he had started to a residence nearby in the rain and pulled the trousers about his neck to protect himself. The man carried several small articles with him, but there was nothing which gave any indication where he might reside. He was described as being old, wore a heavy beard and was wearing a straw hat.

He had nothing in his belongings to identify him but Dr. T. S. Reser, coroner of Benton county, was told by persons seeing the man shortly before that he told them he was 92 years old and was on his way from Lebanon to Windsor, Mo. Dr. Reser said he had no bruises, nor indication of injury.

The man had told persons in the vicinity of Cole Camp his name was E. J. Carney, that he did not have any relatives and at one time had been in New York. He carried a list of names of persons with whom he stopped and Dr. Reser stated he was endeavoring to contact those parties in hopes that a more positive identification could be made.

Dr. Reser said the body would be held for several days.

The body was taken to the Eickhoff Funeral Home at Cole Camp to await identification.

Sunday School Lesson

Erring Man Who Heeds Conscience Like Judah, is Sure to Mend Ways. Scripture: Genesis 43-44.

By William E. Gilroy, D. D.

Judah was a man with a none too savory past when events of this lesson occurred. It was he who, more than anyone else, was responsible for Joseph being in Egypt. Reuben, it may be recalled, had persuaded his brethren to cast Joseph into a pit, when the brothers were conspiring to kill him, intending to go back and rescue Joseph and deliver him to his father. But before this could happen, a caravan of Ishmaelites hove into sight, and Judah suggested that they sell Joseph to them — the first step of his going to Egypt. Later Judah was mixed up in a nasty affair with his daughter-in-law, the story of which is in Genesis 38.

In both of these affairs, he seems to have displayed a well-intentioned but muddled moral sense. He suggested selling Joseph, instead of killing him, because he was "our brother and our flesh." It isn't quite a brotherly act to sell one's own kin into slavery, but at that it was better than murder. When he suspected his daughter-in-law of sin, he ordered that she should be burnt to death, but when his own part in the affair was brought home to him he acknowledged his sin with frank honesty and did what he could to atone for the wrong.

Judah was a man, like many others, with a great capacity for good or evil. The seeds of good were in him and now in the testing time of a great opportunity, they were bearing fruit. Where he had formerly been willing to

The Quest For God

The life of man is a quest for God. It is an inner, silent seeking which may be conscious or unconscious, but which goes on till the very moment of death. Man seeks God as instinctively as he seeks for material happiness in his earthly domain.

We speak often of the spark of good that can be found in even the worst of men not realizing, perhaps, that this is but proof of the innate tendency in all men to turn to what is good, and thus, implicitly, to the Author of goodness Himself. Possibly we find it difficult to think often of God, but in our souls there is an innate urge to give Him homage. We know, somehow, that as we seek Him He, on his part, is seeking us. There is profound consolation in this knowledge.

The quest for God does not mean that man must go all the way to meet Him, that God, as it were, stands still while we human souls grope unsteadily toward Him. For the mile we travel, God will travel nine. That is a truth to ponder. It means that every effort toward self-conquest, every prayer of atonement or praise, is not just one step nearer to God, but ten.

The quest for God is the intuitive returning of the soul to its Creator and original Possessor. Religion teaches how infinitely tender is God's love and concern for every human being. It is His grace in the soul which inspires the search for Him, and unless a man wilfully destroys that grace through surrender to evil, he will infallibly find Him whom he was born to seek.

Pfc. Connor At Manila On Way Home

"Well And Happy" Sister Wires On Liberated Marine

"Cliff is in Manila, well and happy. Be home in a few days," was the telegraphic message Mr. and Mrs. James H. Connor, route two, LaMonte, received Thursday afternoon from their daughter, Lieut. June Connor, of the WACS, who is in Manila.

Her reference was to her brother, Pfc. Dennis Clifford Connor, who was liberated a few days ago from a Japanese prison camp, where he with a group of other marines had been held by the Japanese as prisoners.

He had been confined at various camps since being taken prisoner December 23, 1941 at Wake Island in the Pacific when it surrendered to the Japanese.

His sister, Lieut. June Connor, has been in service over a year and after leaving the United States before going to Manila recently had been on duty in the Dutch East Indies.

Full verification of the release of the young Pettis countian brought great satisfaction to his many relatives and friends at LaMonte where he grew to young manhood. He is 24 years old.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

"SUBSTANCE" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, September 16, 1945.

Golden Text: Hebrews 11:1. Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "Thine, O Lord, is the greatness, and the power, and the glory, and the victory, and the majesty: for all that is in the heaven and in the earth is thine: thine is the kingdom, O Lord, and thou art exalted as head above all." (I Chron. 29:11).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Spirit, God, has created all in and of Himself. Spirit never created matter. There is nothing in Spirit out of which matter could be made, for as the Bible declares, without the Logos, the Aeon or Word of God, was not anything made that was made." Spirit is the only substance, the invisible and indivisible infinite God. Things spiritual and eternal are substantial." (p. 335) sell Joseph, he was now urging that he be allowed to sacrifice himself so that his brothers might take back home with them little Benjamin, the son of Jacob's old age, who had taken the place of Joseph.

The story is one of intense dramatic setting, as if Joseph had planned it all to evoke Judah's passionate plea and evidence of his moral restoration before the climax when, overcome with emotion and unable to restrain himself longer, he made himself known to his brethren.

To Judah, particularly, the revelation must have meant deep heart searching and poignant recollections, as he remembered that it was he who had first sent Joseph on his long course of slavery, imprisonment and ultimate power and saviorship in time of famine. With what relief Judah must have heard Joseph's words of generous forgiveness and his assurance that it had all happened for the outworking of God's providence! Nevertheless how deeply his conscience must have condemned him and inclined him to be a better man!

It is a satisfaction to see Judah, after his devious course, a changed man, greatly concerned for his family responsibilities and willing to sacrifice himself lest he bring further tragedy upon his aged father. Commentators stress his family loyalty as the central fact of this lesson; but the great and true example of family loyalty and unswerving acceptance of all its opportunities of love and privilege is Joseph. The highest that can be said of Judah is that he was at last worthy to be called Joseph's brother.

Radio Network Strike Ends
Negotiations On Contract Have Been Resumed
NEW YORK, Sept. 14.—(P)—The strike of engineers and technicians in the National and American Broadcasting Companies ended Thursday night and the men returned to work, U. S. Labor Conciliator J. R. Mandelbaum announced.
The work stoppage began at 5:00 p. m. (CWT yesterday after officials of the National Association of Broadcast Engineers and Technicians, an independent union, declared negotiations for a new wage contract had broken down.

Mandelbaum said representatives of NBC and ABC and the union resumed contract negotiations immediately.
During the short work stoppage both broadcasting companies used executives to man the jobs which the union employees had left and said they had been able with minor difficulties, to present their programs over their national networks.
Approximately 500 union operating engineers participated in the work stoppage, NABET said.
Points at issue in the contract negotiations included: A general wage increase averaging 35 percent in all classifications and overtime after eight hours in any day, according to A. T. Powley, president of NABET.
NBC said the men now receive an average salary of $3,000 yearly, with average monthly salaries ranging from $230 to $482.75.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 14.—(P)—One problem agitating the football minded populace is whether Don Hutson intends to make his fourth annual retirement stick. . . . Don played for the Green Bay Packers in the all star game at Chicago because that was supposed to present the 1944 National football league champions but he didn't appear in last night's exhibition against the Eagles. . . . Even his boss, Curly Lambeau, does not know what Hutson eventually will decide and he no longer intends to coax his star performer. . . . One reason is Clyde Goodnight, the tall boy from Tulsa U. who has taken over Hutson's end post. . . . Lambeau fairly glows when he tells how fast and how promising Goodnight looks. . . . If Hutson is through, he will have established one more record. His first professional play was an 85-yard touchdown pass; his last an 85-yard scoring run with an intercepted pass.

Lavagetto asked "What's wrong?" and Stan replied: "Can't get used to the mound." The batter then belted his next pitch for a double. . . . The following morning Sluggo Musial announced his retirement from the pitching corps.

On examination whereof it is ordered that all persons interested in the estate of said deceased be notified that application as aforesaid has been made, and that unless the contrary be shown on or before Tuesday, October 9th, 1945, an order will be made for the sale of the whole, or so much of the real estate of said deceased as will be sufficient for the payment of said debts; and it is further ordered that this notice be published in some newspaper in Pettis County, this State for four weeks prior to said date.
Attested: A true copy from the record. (Seal) J. E. SMITH, Judge and Ex-Officio Clerk of Probate Court, Pettis County, Missouri.

Frayed Nerves In Evidence At Washington
Players Swap Blows In Dressing Room As Senators Climb Closer to the Top
By Jack Hand
Associated Press Sports Writer
Frayed nerves are wearing thin in Washington with the challenging Senators swapping locker room punches while the club storms to within a half game of first place.
On the eve of the payoff five-game series with the front running but crippled Detroit Tigers, Alex Carrasquel and Marino Piretti traded blows over a pet bat and Manager Ossie Bluege plastered a $100 fine on second baseman Freddy Vaughn who wanted to sock the boss after a rumpus earlier in the week.
Bluege excused the fistcuffs as "one of those things" in the thick of the flag chase as the underdog Senators seek to become the first club in baseball history to jump from last to first in one year.
Walter Masterson, recently discharged navy vet, was the latest hero of the nation's capital after taming Bobby Feller and his Cleveland Tribe 4-0, allowing only two singles.
The 25-year old Philadelphia native hadn't appeared in a big league game since he joined the navy in September, 1942, but only once was the former sailor in trouble — when he put two on in the third. Then he struck out Felix Mackiewicz and made Mickey Rocco sky to George Case to end the threat.
Feller suffered his second setback to three wins since his discharge from the navy when the Nats scored three times in a fourth inning rally capped by Rookie Bingo Binks' double.
Detroit dropped a full game off its lead when Jim Tobin blew up in the ninth inning, yielded three hits and two walks and bowed to Philadelphia, 3-2.
Bobby Estalella, the hero of the A's 16-inning triumph Wednesday, drove home the tying run and scored the winning tally when Tobin missed the corner of the plate on a 3-2 pitch to Ed Busch with the bases loaded.
Hank Greenberg and Eddie Mayo worked out with the club but still were sidelined.
Hard Luck Bill Zuber of the New York Yanks ran into his seventh goose-egg treatment of the season, bowing to Chicago 7-0. Strangely enough in 10 innings, "Zinker Ball" Zuber had allowed only one hit in the full nine innings but was clubbed to the showers in the overtime spurt during which Guy Curtright collected two doubles.
St. Louis regained third place from the Yanks by shading Boston 2-1, for Nelson Potter's seventh straight success. A muffed up double play in the ninth set the stage for the Browns' triumph with Vern Stephens romping home on Skeeter Newsome's wild peg. Chet Laabs had homered in the fifth for the other score off Vic Johnson.

Pittsburgh made seven hits good for a double decision over Boston, 4-3 and 2-0, advancing to within two percentage points of the idle Brooklyn Dodgers in third place. Al Gerhauser lasted all the way in the opener and Fritz Ostermueller shut out the Braves with six hits in the second.
New York dropped its sixth successive game by one run 3-2, to Cincinnati. The Reds scored all their markers in the seventh off Jack Brewer.
Rain halted the National's thrilling pennant race, washing out a single Philadelphia at Chicago afternoon tilt and a twi-night doubleheader between the Dodgers and Cardinals at St. Louis.

The Story of the Atom
No. 10--The War of the Laboratories
We must be careful! If a neutron ever wanders around in here, there might not be even an "X" to mark the spot.
(1) The possibility of an atomic bomb was put before President Roosevelt by Alexander Sachs of New York who carried a letter from Prof. Albert Einstein. Panzers had rolled into France. The Luftwaffe was threatening Britain's existence. It was feared America could not keep out of the war and was in line for invasion. President Roosevelt sensed the urgency and appointed in strictest secrecy an "Advisory Committee on Uranium."
(2) The enemy, if its scientists were successful, might use atomic fission to destroy civilization. Or in our hands, the same power of the atom might save us from annihilation. President Roosevelt suggested to Prime Minister Churchill that British and American scientists combine in atomic research. Thus, the two groups might win the contest. Churchill agreed.
(3) Scientists of Great Britain, Canada and the United States set busily at work on the grim race with its laboratories and factories. The work of Britain and America expanded. It became a major war industry. The mysterious "Manhattan Engineer District" was formed in the War Department with top priorities. Top scientists were called in. G-men kept careful watch. Army officers went mysteriously about with satchels chained to their wrists.
(4) Much of the work had to do with the separation and purification of Uranium 235. Could U-235 be accumulated in any appreciable quantities? Suppose a wandering neutron hit it. It might start a chain reaction that would blast the experimenters to their doom. Then they made a highly useful discovery. Bombardment of the more common U-238 produced an entirely new element—plutonium.
Tomorrow: Spies and scientists both busy.

Club Meets With Miss Elizabeth Scott

The September meeting of the Neighbors Club was held with Miss Elizabeth Scott, with Miss Dorothy Bacon and Miss Charline Lindsay as guests. The meeting was opened by Miss Lindsay leading the group reading of the Club Collect. Catherine Scott read Miss Kelly's news letter. Mrs. Myron C. Harper led the devotional. Catherine Scott demonstrated the use of sewing machine attachments. Miss Bacon showed how to patch overalls on the sewing machine.

A handkerchief shower was given Miss Bacon, after which refreshments were served.

The October meeting will be with Mrs. Earl Johnson.

Network of Civic 'Air Parks' To Make Family Fling Easier

By S. Burton Heath
NEA Staff Writer

You're going to buy a little plane all your own, to fly to camp weekends, on picnics Sunday, on fishing trips—to all the places your earth-bound car won't go in the time you have.

You're going to pay no more than for an automobile—though, to be sure, a more expensive automobile than you ever did own. And it won't cost more to operate (if as much) than your flivver does now.

So far, so good. But where are you going to store your plane? Where will you take off for the trout stream? Where will you land when you get there?

The automobile became a commonplace only after streets and roads were tied together in a network of highways, with filling and service stations within spitting distance anywhere you might be.

The airplane can't become a humdrum unless and until every community big enough for a Grange Hall has also a landing strip. It is looking toward that goal that the Civil Aeronautics Authority proposes federal assistance to build some 3,000 landing fields, mostly for personal planes, bringing the total up to more than 6,000.

Air Park Is Cheap

Many communities have no such facilities because they are flabbergasted by the enormity and huge cost of an Idlewild or a Burbank. They do not yet realize that it is possible to provide ample facilities for their residents' personal planes—and those of visitors—at an outlay that is all but insignificant.

William A. Mara, of the Bendix Aviation Corp., reports that many of the nation's 16,752 communities already are at work preparing, modestly and within their financial means, for the coming air age.

"An air park should not be confused with an air port," he says. "Essentially the air park is only a level, grassy piece of land, perhaps 300 feet wide and 2,000 feet long. It need not be hard-surfaced, but it must be well-drained and, above all, must be near a road."

There now are only 1,791 landing facilities suitable for personal planes, the CAA says. But if there were 5,000, located properly, no point in the country would be more than 15 miles from adequate personal plane landing and take-off facilities.

The air parks now being constructed and planned include flightstops along highways; urban landing fields; air harbors in quiet river or lake or seashore waters; and suburban air parks.

Perhaps the most widely publicized is that at Eldon, Mo. Eldon population is only 2,590. But the town sold $25,000 worth of bonds, spent $11,000 for land and is using the rest for clearing, grading, draining, landscaping, fencing, seeding and erecting a small service and administration building. Wartime restrictions have delayed work, but planes already are using the field.

Self-Supporting

It is planned to leave the project to an operator so that the community will have no upkeep costs. A nine-hole golf course, tennis courts and other recreational facilities will help to support it.

If $25,000 seems too much for your town, there is Redmond, Ore.—population 2,000. A local sportsman's club gave 40 acres of land and the county commission added as much more. The Redmond Civil Air Patrol members took over.

The resident state engineer helped stake out runways in line with prevailing winds. A neighboring army air field lent a large grader and bulldozer, the city lent scrap-iron equipment, a neighboring farmer volunteered his tractor, a dairyman sent his rake and other citizens brought trucks, equipment and human muscle.

In just seven hours the 80 acres of sage brush flats north of Redmond had been transformed, without community outlay, into a going air park that was used that same day by a small private plane.

Since then a three-plane hangar has been built by the same community cooperation, a flying club has been organized and an air-plane has been purchased.

Coldwater, Mich., with 7,000 inhabitants, raised $30,000 through popular subscription and created its air park as a memorial to its servicemen.

In some instances, in metropolitan areas, suburban air parks are reported being provided by gasoline companies in return for the exclusive right to sell fuel at them.

Through its Personal Aircraft Council, the Aircraft Industries Association of America is stressing that a plane is of no more use than the facilities for landings, takeoffs and servicing.

Any city that wants a genuine, all-wool-and-a-yard-wide commercial airport, and can afford one, can spend as much as its finances will stand. But Eldon, Redmond and Coldwater demonstrate that where there's a will for an air park, there's a way to get one almost for nothing.

Labor Day Club Program

Mrs. Milton Lewis assisted Mrs. Roy Reinert in entertaining the Sunny Side Home Economics Extension club in the Reinert home September 5.

The contributive luncheon was followed by the business meeting over which Mrs. C. Rodenbach presided. Mrs. John Flower was devotional service leader. Plans for a display of canned products at the Achievement Day program were discussed.

Mrs. Lewis, program chairman, presented Mrs. V. Snyder, who gave information on use of sewing machine attachments and remedies for adjustments. A Labor Day program was presented after which Mrs. John Fowler sang "To the Work" and a short review of the official proceedings of V-J Day was given by Mrs. Guy Berry.

Visitors were Mrs. Lizzie Bohon, Mrs. W. J. Holtzen, Mrs. C. C. Sullivan, Mrs. H. Young and daughter, William Monsees and Milton Lewis.

The October 3 meeting will be at the home of Mrs. George Freeze.

First Meeting Of Salem PTA

The P. T. A. of the Salem district held its first meeting of this school year Friday night.

Earl Birdsong, vice-president, presided over the meeting in the absence of the president, and the meeting was opened by singing two songs, followed by the Lord's Prayer in unison.

Committees were appointed for each month to take care of the program and refreshments.

The hot lunch program was discussed and a committee composed of Mrs. George Holman and Lester Holdner, was appointed.

The secretary gave a report of a balance of $72.00 left in the treasury from last year.

Miss Challis Johnson, teacher, introduced two new pupils, Ruby Faye and Ella Christine Silsby.

Following the business meeting special numbers were given, at which time Miss Mary Lou Holdner gave two piano numbers and Jackie Joe Birdsong a recitation.

The next meeting will be the first Friday evening in October. Mrs. Birdsong will have charge of the program and a committee composed of Mrs. Sim Bake and Mrs. Jack Ellison will have charge of the refreshments.

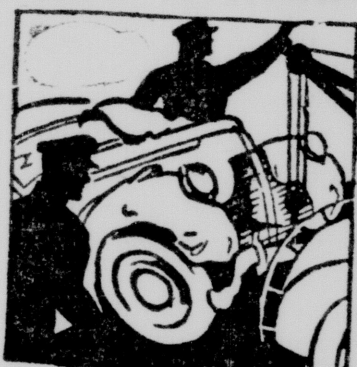

To Washington With MVA Views

JEFFERSON CITY, Sept. 14—(P)—Four Missouri legislators will go to Washington next week to give their views on proposals for establishment of a Missouri Valley Authority.

In one group, representing the committee on interstate cooperation, will be Sens. Ray Williams (R) of Cassville and Michael Kinney (D) of St. Louis, and Rep. Joe H. Miller (R) of Carroll county. Williams said they would emphasize that Missouri opinion on the question is sharply divided. The fourth legislator scheduled

Speeding Up To Clear Way For Industry

Today Rounds Out The First Full Month Of Peace

By STERLING F. GREEN
WASHINGTON, Sept. 13.—(P)—One month after the last Japanese rifle shot, America's dash into peace looks bold, amazingly swift and—so far—successful.

That is the consensus in Washington, where government has broken all bureaucratic speed records in "getting out of the way of industry."

How Changes Loom

Tomorrow rounds out the first full month of peace. This is a look at the state of the nation's reconversion:

1. Rationing half gone. By year's end perhaps only sugar will be rationed.

2. Surpluses, instead of scarcities, looming—for instance, chickens, cargo ships, some from crops, aluminum and, of course, piles of war material.

3. Millions being laid off war work, but still choosy about taking new peacetime jobs.

4. New goods—washers, refrigerators and new cars—coming off assembly lines in a promising trickle. WPB says its reconversion progress is two to three weeks ahead of expectations.

5. But there still are more dollars than goods in circulation. OPA sits firmly on the price lid, while business pressure to pry it up grows daily more intense.

The journalistic joy-ride is slowing down. No longer does each day bring a torrent of good news for the housewife and businessman. The country approaches normal living.

This is what a month of peace has done.

Your ration book:
Erased from the ration list were gasoline, fuel oil, canned foods, cheese, canned milk, stoves.

These items stayed on, with this outlook:

Meat—point values dropping, possibly off October 1.

Shoes—October 1 is the ending date asked by WPB's leather bureau.

Tires—tire makers think rationing can end by New Years.

Fats and oils—worldwide scarcity, but a chance of relief by the year's end.

Sugar—no increase seen in 1945.

Trucks—off rationing December 1.

Industry and payrolls:
The government has snatched 60 percent of its orders out of the factories, by December, will have war work down 80 percent.

It has offered 252 war plants to industry, to make goods and jobs. More will be offered, with their tools. But they are not selling rapidly, and workers could go hungry waiting for most of them to re-open.

Back To Production

So the government has thrown its main effort into getting private plants back into production.

Jobs:
One month hence, 4,500,000 men and women will have lost their jobs. U. S. Employment Service has jammed its gears into reverse. It is hunting jobs for men, not mean for jobs.

Many of those laid off already have found work. Officials say some others are taking their time. But claims filed for jobless pay have hit a record high, and some 8,800,000 veterans will be discharged into the labor market in the next ten months, maybe sooner.

President Truman's big batch of wanted legislation shows his worryment over workless workers.

Congress is moving fast, but has balked at some of Mr. Truman's ideas.

These were among other milestones passed in perhaps the most eventful month since December 1941.

Wages—the lid is off, if the pay boosts don't increase prices. But (Please Turn To Page 4 col. 1)

May Not Ration First New Autos

WASHINGTON, Sept. 13.—(P)—Contrary to original plans new automobiles due on the market soon may not be rationed.

Proposals to abandon plans for rationing the first few thousand new cars have been submitted by the OPA to WPB.

Suspend Price Ceiling On White Potatoes

WASHINGTON, Sept. 13.—(P)—The OPA today announced suspension of price ceilings on white potatoes for the period from tomorrow through Oct. 25.

The action, described as "the first move of the kind affecting an important staple food item," was taken after the department of agriculture had estimated the 1945 potato crop to be the largest in years—approximately 432,895,000 bushels.

Ceilings on certified and war approved seed potatoes are not affected.

Aged Man Falls Dead Thursday

An aged man attired in a dark blue suit, having two pairs of pants, one pair tied around his neck, was seen to fall dead near the Rock Island railway station, two miles north of Cole Camp about 4 o'clock Thursday afternoon.

It is believed he had started to a residence nearby in the rain and pulled the trousers about his neck to protect himself.

He had nothing in his belongings to identify him but Dr. T. S. Reser, coroner of Benton county, was told by persons seeing the man shortly before that he told them he was 92 years old and was on his way from Lebanon to Windsor, Mo. Dr. Reser said he has no bruises, nor indication of injury.

The body was taken to the Eickhoff Funeral Home at Cole Camp to await identification.

Set Up Centers For Discharges From Army

Start Clearing Of Backlog Of 258,000 Ready For Release

WASHINGTON, Sept. 13.—(P)—The army is setting up 145 temporary separation centers to clear out a backlog of 258,000 men in this country who are eligible for discharge, senators were told today.

These men, Maj. Gen. S. G. Henry told the senate military committee, were returned from Europe for deployment to the Pacific. The sudden surrender of Japan, he explained, left them without an assignment.

The air forces are establishing 32 temporary discharge bases to release 135,000 men and the service forces are creating 113 centers to process 123,000 men.

All of the centers will be in operation by Sept. 24, with the AAF scheduled to finish up its backlog within 42.2 days and the service forces in 35 days. After Jan. 1, discharges will be handled by the 26 regular centers.

Between now and Christmas, Henry told the committee, the army expects to release approximately 1,300,000 men with discharges hitting a peak of 672,000 in January. Since V-E day, May 8, the army has released approximately 700,000, making the expected year-end total 2,000,000.

Senator Johnson (D-Colo.) told General Henry that he has been receiving complaints that men returned from combat were sitting around camps in this country "cutting grass with bayonets and holding hands" while awaiting discharge.

Elected applause

Several soldier-spectators at the hearing applauded.

Henry replied everybody who is eligible to go overseas is being sent out—540,000 to Gen. Douglas MacArthur and 200,000 to Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower.

"The man cutting grass with the bayonet moves in to replace those men," Henry said. "The grass has to be cut. Even if he took General Marshall's place (as army chief of staff) he wouldn't think he was doing essential work as long as he thought he ought to be discharged."

The size of the postwar army was injected into the hearing by Johnson who said he questions the need for 2,500,000 men the army expects to have next July 1. He said that was figured on the basis of 500,000 men in Germany, 900,000 in Japan and about 1,100,000 in this country.

Henry replied that those were the figures which Gen. Eisenhower and Gen. MacArthur considered "the minimum" for their needs. He complained of what he called "the hysteria to get everybody out and take nobody in."

"We know we can't have an army like Russia, England, and France but maybe we can have an army as big as Mexico or Italy," Henry commented, with a smile.

Reporting that 1,400,000 with 80 or more points are now headed for separation centers, Gen. Henry told the committee the score will be lowered as soon as this figure is reduced to 500,000.

"We intend to demobilize as fast as it is humanly possible to do so," he declared.

Patrolmen Raid Club, Book 13 Men

KANSAS CITY, Sept. 13.—(P)—Ten members of the State Highway Patrol raided the Green Hills Club, north of Kansas City, yesterday afternoon and booked 13 men on charges of operating gambling devices.

The raid was directed by Col. Hugh H. Waggoner, superintendent of the patrol, on orders of Gov. Phil M. Donnelly.

More than 150 persons were in the club at the time the raid was made. Colonel Waggoner said. Capt. O. L. Veits, who led the raid said patrolmen seized about $3,000 which would be used as evidence.

Pfc. Connor At Manila On Way Home

"Well And Happy" Sister Wires On Liberated Marine

"Cliff is in Manila, well and happy. Be home in a few days", was the telegraphic message Mr. and Mrs. James H. Connor, route two, LaMonte, received Thursday afternoon from their daughter, Lieut. June Connor, of the WACS, who is in Manila.

Her reference was to her brother, Pfc. Dennis Clifford Connor, who was liberated a few days ago from a Japanese prison camp, where he with a group of other marines had been held by the Japanese as prisoners.

He had been confined at various camps since being taken prisoner December 23, 1941 at Wake Island in the Pacific when it surrendered to the Japanese.

His sister, Lieut. June Connor, has been in service over a year and after leaving the United States before going to Manila recently had been on duty in the Dutch East Indies.

Full verification of the release of the young Pettis countian brought great satisfaction to his many relatives and friends at LaMonte where he grew to young manhood. He is 24 years old.

Tighten Reins On Uranium

WASHINGTON, Sept. 13.—(P)—President Truman tightened government control today over possible sources of radio-active mineral substances which might be used in the production of atomic energy.

He signed an executive order withdrawing from sale or other disposal all public lands in the United States or Alaska which contained deposits of radio-active mineral substances.

There are known deposits of uranium, primary source of atomic energy, in Colorado and Utah, according to the bureau of mines, as well as in the Belgian Congo and Canada.

Under the executive order the United States will reserve the right to remove mineral substances from any lands it may lease or license hereafter where sources of atomic energy may be discovered.

A few hours after the presidential action, Maj. Gen. Leslie Groves, who headed the atomic bomb project, expressed the opinion that peacetime productive use of atomic power is "a number of years, in fact a number of decades, away."

He told a news conference that the process was so complex "I cannot imagine any civilian effort being worked on with the same intensity" as was applied to the bomb.

Canning Sugar Deadline Set

The issuance of sugar for canning purposes will be discontinued September 15, J. G. Galloway, District OPA Director, said last night. Because of the sugar shortage that has hampered the program all season, canning sugar at the present is issued on a basis of five pounds per person at boards that have not used up their quota.

A few boards will be able to continue to issue up to that amount until the last day while several boards will find it necessary to cut down the poundage per person or stop issuing when their quota is depleted, the director said. No applications will be accepted after September 15 by any of the boards.

Persons who make application this week and who have not already received an earlier allotment of canning sugar should send in application on regular OPA form while persons seeking a second allotment need only send a request to be added to their original application, if a board has enough of its quota left for an additional allotment. All applications should be made by mail.

The jury returned several indictments alleging violation of the narcotics laws. At St. Joseph Adolph L. Randall, a clerk in the postoffice was charged with opening two letters and removing $3 from them. At Chillicothe Blanche Russell was accused of obtaining ten $50 government allotment checks by falsely representing herself as the wife of an army corporal.

At Sedalia, Earl Cecil Phillips, Paul D. Daniels, Daisy Daniels, and Cecile Johnson, alias Mrs. Leonard Goth, were indicted for alleged forgery, most of the cases involving soldier's allotment checks.

Outlook Dark For New Tires

KANSAS CITY, Sept. 13.—(P)—The outlook for new tires is just as dark, if no darker, than it was before the end of the war, J. G. Galloway, district OPA director, said here yesterday.

"The effects of the July strikes in the tire industry are just now being felt," he said.

Reports from Washington indicate there might be some improvement in October but even so, drivers whose operation is considered essential will have first consideration, he stated.

Galloway estimated there are one million tire ration certificates outstanding throughout the nation which dealers cannot fill. Allocations for the entire country for September are only two and one half million tires and no quotas can be increased, he added.

Shoe Rationing May End October First

WASHINGTON, Sept. 13.—(P)—Shoe rationing may end October 1.

It will if top officials of the War Production Board follow recommendations of the agency's leather bureau. It's the job of that bureau to know the shoe situation thoroughly.

A decision will be made in the next week or so, after conferences between WPB Chairman J. A. Krug and OPA Administrator Chester Bowles.

OPA shoe officials are not expected to voice any strenuous objections to the WPB proposal, although October 15 and November 1 have been mentioned more frequently within OPA as likely dates for ending the program.

Indictments On Sedalians

Ninety-seven True Bills By Federal Grand Jury

KANSAS CITY, Sept. 13.—(P)—Among 97 indictments returned by a federal grand jury here today to Judge Albert A. Ridge was one charging Mrs. Grace Wynne, now living in New Orleans, with moving to that city in 1942 with intent to avoid a state murder charge in connection with the alleged slaying of Mrs. Mary Thompson of Kansas City.

The jury returned two "no true bills" in making its report. Sixty-one of the indictments are returnable at Kansas City; 19 in Springfield; three in St. Joseph; eight are on Sedalians; five at Joplin.

Among those indicted were Earl Alfrey of Sedalia, Mo., for alleged perjury in a federal court trial here last November in the sale of a truck which he purchased from J. E. Noel of Sedalia. Also charged by indictment with perjury in the case was Warren Alcorn, Sedalia motor car mechanic, who was a witness in the trial of a charge of OPA ceiling violations before Federal Judge John Caskie Collet. (Niel has been indicted by a previous grand jury).

Emmett Earl Holman was indicted for allegedly taking money and jewelry from servicemen on a Frisco train moving in interstate commerce at Springfield August 28.

Edward Lee Kreiser, an employee of a storage house at Camp Crowder, Mo., was charged with theft of government property from the warehouse and 10 other persons in the Camp Crowder area were indicted for receiving and possessing army tires.

Those named in that indictment, which is returnable at Springfield, were besides Kreiser: Raymond George, Jr., Olin D. Wilson; Herbert N. Mitchell; Charles Orville Light; Clovis Gene Yarnell; Louis A. Eckert; William P. Woods; Arlie Salles; Floyd H. Dykes and Eugene Manes.

Jack Boyd Fisher of Springfield was charged with theft of $2 from a contribution box for a Negro community building fund which was located in the postoffice there.

Among the five indictments returnable at Joplin were two charging violation of the Dyer act; one charging failure to report for induction and one alleging violation of the Mann act by transporting a woman from Texas to Joplin.

Alfred Lee Wriston was named as defendant in the draft board case, for allegedly failure to report for induction at Joplin in July, 1945.

At Sedalia, Earl Cecil Phillips, Paul D. Daniels, Daisy Daniels, and Cecile Johnson, alias Mrs. Leonard Goth, were indicted for alleged forgery, most of the cases involving soldier's allotment checks.

The jury returned several indictments alleging violation of the narcotics laws. At St. Joseph Adolph L. Randall, a clerk in the postoffice was charged with opening two letters and removing $3 from them. At Chillicothe Blanche Russell was accused of obtaining ten $50 government allotment checks by falsely representing herself as the wife of an army corporal.

Scalp Lacerated As Car Overturns

C. A. Mathieson, of 912 West Fifth street, manager of the Town and Country Shoe company plant, figured in an automobile accident but escaped serious injury about 4:30 o'clock Thursday afternoon when the 1941 Buick coupe he was driving went off the highway on a curve two miles west of Dresden. He was returning to Sedalia from Warrensburg where the company also has a plant.

The highway there is blacktop and in the drizzling rain became slippery. While he was not driving at over forty miles an hour the car left the pavement and overturned damaging the fenders and the wheels were sprung.

Mr. Mathieson sustained a lacerated scalp. After being given attention by Dr. M. P. Shy at the Bothwell hospital he went to his home.

The car was towed into Sedalia.

Radio Network Strike Ends

Negotiations On Contract Have Been Resumed

NEW YORK, Sept. 13.—(P)—The strike of engineers and technicians in the National and American Broadcasting Companies ended tonight and the men returned to work. U. S. Labor Conciliator J. R. Mandelbaum announced.

The work stoppage began at 5:00 p. m. (CWT yesterday after officials of the National Association of Broadcast Engineers and Technicians, an Independent union, declared negotiations for a new wage contract had broken down.

Mandelbaum said representatives of NBC, and ABC and the union resumed contract negotiations immediately.

During the short work stoppage both broadcasting companies used executives to man the jobs which the union employees had left and said they had been able with minor difficulties, to present their programs over their national networks.

Approximately 500 union operating engineers participated in the work stoppage, NABET said.

Points at issue in the contract negotiations included: A general wage increase averaging 35 percent in all classifications and overtime after eight hours in any day, according to A. T. Powley, president of NABET.

NBC said the men now receive an average salary of $3,000 yearly, with average monthly salaries ranging from $230 to $482.75.

Visits Here On Return From Okinawa

S. I. Marvin Jerome (Sonny) Kanter, son of Mr. and Mrs. Simon Kanter, 402 Dal-Whi-Mo Court, has returned to the states from Okinawa and is spending a leave with his parents. He will leave Monday to report to Portland, Ore., where he will receive further overseas duty assignment.

Capt. J. T. Gledhill Arrives in California

Captain John T. Gledhill, who has been overseas in the Pacific area almost four years, has arrived in the states according to a telegram received by his mother, Mrs. J. T. Gledhill of West Seventh street, from Camp McDowell, Calif. He will soon come to Fort Leavenworth, he wired.

Upon his arrival there he will be met by his mother and sister, Mrs. Jack Howard and Mr. Howard.

The army captain accompanied Allison on a visit to Shinagawa. They found the hospital camp ringed with anti-aircraft guns in violation of the Geneva convention.

Japanese. In some cases they bled the men directly to death and in others so weakened them that they died of other causes.

"The captain said he would personally like to shoot one particularly brutal Japanese doctor. The captain said he had treated a B-29 flier for a simple leg fracture. Then the Japanese doctor insisted in making a deep incision to wire the bone, although that should be done only for a compound fracture when the flesh is mangled. The boy died of infection."

1,300,000 Home By Christmas

War Department Tells Senators Today That is the Plan

WASHINGTON, Sept. 13.—(P)—The army expects to release an additional 1,300,000 men by Christmas, a War Department spokesman told senators today.

With approximately 700,000 already released since V-E Day, this will mean a reduction of 2,000,000 in army strength since Germany's defeat.

Maj. Gen. S. G. Henry, assistant chief of staff, told the senate military committee that demobilization was running ahead of schedule with an estimated 400,000 being released in September instead of a planned 250,000.

By January, he testified, discharges will reach a rate of 672,000 monthly, or 22,400 daily.

Approximately 258,000 men now in the U. S. who are eligible for discharge but caught behind a jam in the demobilization "pipeline" will be released within 45 days, Henry said, as the result of a temporary increase in the number of separation centers.

Many in "Pipeline"

Henry said that a total of 1,400,000 men are now in the "pipeline" headed for separation centers and as soon as 900,000 are released, the discharge point score will be reduced from the present figure of 8

Mail Overseas Christmas Gifts Early

Begin September 15; Mark And Wrap Packages Well

Mailing of Christmas packages to American servicemen overseas will begin September 15, and with the movement of troops underway for occupational duties emphasis is laid on secure wrapping as well as wise selection by postoffice, army and navy officials.

Overseas Christmas packages will be more difficult to deliver safely and on time this year because of the redistribution of thousands of troops, and it is pointed out that packages that are wrapped carelessly, incompletely addressed and tardily mailed will have much less chance of arriving in good condition at their destinations.

From September 15 to October 15 gifts can be mailed overseas to army personnel without a request from the soldier. If there is reason to believe that the servicemen may be moved soon to a new location it will be best to wait until the gift can be mailed to the new address.

Navy Mail By Oct. 15

Gifts to sailors and marines should be mailed by October 15. However, if the soldier, sailor or marine is on the way home or about to come home, the advice is not to mail him a Christmas package.

Packages should be marked "Christmas Gift Parcel" with waterproof ink. Enclosing a list of the contents of the package and the complete name and address of the person to whom it is being sent is advised. If the box is broken, undamaged articles may be rewrapped and forwarded.

All articles for overseas shipment should be packed in boxes of metal, wood, solid fiberboard or strong double-faced corrugated fiberboard that will stand up under the weight of at least 200 pounds. Packages must not exceed 36 inches in length and girth combined, and must be within the five-pound weight limit.

Prohibited articles are intoxicants, weapons, poisons and inflammable materials. Gifts of clothing should not be sent unless they are requested by the serviceman. It is suggested that the best way to find out what gifts are really wanted is to write to the serviceman beforehand. He knows what he wants and what can be sent with best results.

Pfc. Robinson Band Leader

Pfc. Robert F. Robinson, of the 510 AAF band, stationed at Labrador, Goose Bay, is now leader of that band. He has had charge of making the arrangements for the band for some time, and also for an orchestra he is with. Some of the members of the orchestra were previously with different famous radio entertainers.

Pfc. Robinson's outstanding talent as a musician and band leader predicts a brilliant future for him. He played at the Missouri State Fair several years ago with Bob Chester's orchestra and won applause. He also tried out with Harry Blue Stone's orchestra in New York City, formerly Glenn Miller's orchestra, and was accepted, but was unable to join because he is in the army.

The 510 AAF band has been entertaining for USO shows and dances in and around Labrador but will leave soon for New York City.

Pfc. Robinson is a grandson of D. H. Robinson, retired assistant superintendent of the Missouri Pacific railroad here and of Mrs. George F. Conser, 1516 South Ohio avenue, and a son of Mrs. O. F. Miller of the same address.

Red Cross Corner

Attention Please! All baby shirts must be in the office by Wednesday of this week, in order that we may make the dead line for shipping. All completed work—and all work must be completed, will have to be in by that time.

There is still some yarn for beanies and wristlets in the Red Cross office, and now that the backbone of our summer seems to be broken, we are confident that our Red Cross knitters will swarm into the office, take out this yarn, and return it shortly, made into the desired garments. Remember that we still have quite a few men in uniform and that it gets cold in Germany and Japan. Our armies of occupation have the right to expect certain things of the American Red Cross. Don't let them down.

We were interested to hear of the birth of a son to Pfc. and Mrs. Abraham Haidouk. Mrs. Haidouk, a registered nurse, is a former Red Cross Home Nursing instructor, having been in charge of classes for instructors.

Pin Oak P. T. A. Has Plan Meet

Members of the Pin Oak PTA met for the first meeting of the year at the school Thursday Sept. 6. The meeting was opened by the president, Mrs. Mason Riley singing of PTA songs and repeating of the Lord's Prayer followed. Plans were made for meetings through the school year, and committees were appointed. The PTA plans to buy new playground equipment this school year.

Everyone enjoyed looking over the newly decorated rooms. All families in the district are urged to attend the October meeting to be held October 4 at the school.

Crew Training Been Resumed At Four Bases

According to an announcement by Colonel Reed G. Landis, commanding officer of 61st Wing Headquarters, the resumption of combat crew training for the four bases, Sedalia, Blytheville, George and Bergstrom, under the command of the Wing Headquarters located at SAAF has begun.

The training started again last week after the holiday resulting in sudden cessation of hostilities with Japan. This is part of an integrated program prepared by Major General Williams, new commanding officer of the First Troop Carrier Command, which it is believed will result in establishment of the Troop Carrier as a permanent part of the regular peacetime Air Force.

The provision for replacement crews for Troop Carrier groups overseas is as obvious a part of the occupation army problem as is the training and shipment of replacement forces for other branches.

The mobility provided occupational forces by fully trained, manned and equipped Troop Carrier units would make it possible for a smaller occupational force to do a fast and complete job that would otherwise require a larger number of men.

Ensign Boy Is Commended

Ensign James Francis Boyd, USNR, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Boyd, Knob Noster, has been commended by R. K. Turner, Admiral, for service in the Pacific.

Ensign J. F. Boyd

The citation reads: For excellent service in the line of his profession as a gunnery officer on a close-in fire support ship on February 17th, 1945. Although the ship was severely damaged by enemy shell fire, he calmly and courageously remained at his station on the exposed low of the ship and caused accurate fire to be directed at the enemy. With exceptional perseverance and profound devotion to duty, he contributed materially to the successful participation of the ship in this extremely hazardous mission. His conduct gives evidence of his great value to the naval reserve.

Commended For Bravery

Mrs. Irene Salmons, of Syracuse, has received a letter from the acting adjutant general, informing her that by the direction of the president, the Silver Star has been awarded posthumously to her husband, Sgt. Ralph W. Salmons, Infantry. The citation reads as follows:

"For gallantry in action on 24 March, 1945 in the vicinity of Griesheim, Germany. During an advance on the town, a platoon was pinned down in an open area by heavy anti-aircraft and machine gun fire, and a member of the platoon was wounded. Sergeant Salmons, at risk of his life, crawled over 50 yards through the intense fire to administer first aid to the casualty. While rendering medical aid to the wounded man, Sergeant Salmons was killed by machine gun fire. His gallantry will be a lasting inspiration to all his comrades and was in accordance with high military traditions."

The letter continues:

"The decoration will be forwarded to the commanding general, Seventh Service Command, Omaha, Nebraska, who will select an officer to make the presentation. The officer selected will communicate with you concerning your wishes in the matter."

"May I again express my deepest sympathy to you in your bereavement."

Edward F. Wittsell, Major General, Acting the Adjutant General."

Earl F. Homan With Noted Combat Unit

Displays of Gardening, Canning, Home Furnishings

WITH THE 35TH INFANTRY DIVISION ASSEMBLY AREA COMMAND, FRANCE—Pfc. Carl F. Homan is en route home from Europe with the 5-Star "Santa Fe" Division, which in ten months battled across the Elbe river to within 42 miles of Berlin.

The 35th ended its occupational duties in Germany during the second week of July and moved to Camp Norfolk, one of the Assembly Area Command's 17 redeployment camps near Reims. Elements of the Division served as Honor Guards for President Truman when he arrived at Antwerp.

Hitting Omaha Beach July 7, 1944, the 35th forced the Germans from St. Lo, broke the counter-offensive at Mortain, swept across France, cracked into Germany's Saar Valley on December 12, and then whipped into Belgium and Luxembourg to wither Von Rundstedt's Ardennes bulge.

Following a shift to the Vosges Mountains, the Division dashed 300 miles north through Holland to jump the Roer and Rhine rivers, crush Siegfried Line defenses, and scoop up more than 30,000 PW's by V-E Day, to mark the end of over 1,600 combat miles in the ETO.

Pfc. Homan is the son of Samuel M. Homan, Ottumwa, Mo.

He holds the following decorations: five battle stars, Good Conduct and Citation Merit of Service.

Japan Planned To Occupy United States

By Fred Hampson

MANILA, Sept. 13 — (AP) — American prisoners of war entering Camp O'Donnell prison of Luzon in 1942 were told by the camp commandant that they were the personal property of the emperor, who graciously was permitting them to live.

Col. Charles Lawrence of Rodney, W. Va., reported the "personal property" angle when he arrived from prison camp on the edge of the Gobi desert in Manchuria.

Lawrence was with the Luzon quartermaster detachment when he was captured at Bataan and taken to O'Donnell to prepare the camp for other prisoners.

The commander, a captain Tsuneyoshi, also advised the senior officers to learn Japanese, Lawrence said, telling them they would eventually be sent back to the United States to teach Japanese and would get important jobs when "Japan occupied the United States."

Horrible Prison

Before reaching the Cheng Chia Tun camp near Mukden, where he was finally liberated, Lawrence said his group was held in the infamous Karenko camp on Formosa, which was described as horrible.

The Karenko prison camp was commanded, Lawrence said, by the Japanese naval Capt. Iwamura, who represented Japan at the Washington Naval Disarmament Conference which resulted in the 5-5-3 ratio and which eventually brought about his retirement in disgrace, because he had permitted Japan to accept an inferior ratio.

He still nursed a grudge against America and was taking it out on the prisoners, Lawrence added.

New homes—the government wants to release residential building October 1, but is trying to figure out a way to keep prices from soaring when the war-time control is gone. Builders are bombarding Washington with protests against any peace-time control.

Construction—all limits removed from factory building and road building. Controls probably come off store, office building and hotel construction October 1; also off public works—which will let the government go ahead with $2,500,000,000 worth of dams, river and harbor improvements and other projects. A 3-year, $3,000,000,000 federal-aid road program also is ready to go.

'Cy' Blanton Ball Pitcher Dies

NORMAN, Okla., Sept. 13—(AP)—Darrell (Cy) Blanton, 36, who gave up the plop on this Trousdale, Okla., farm home to become a pitcher in the major baseball leagues, died today in a hospital.

Blanton, who started his professional baseball career with Shawnee, Okla., of the Western Association in 1930, completed 14 years in the sport with Hollywood of the Pacific Coast League last season.

He recently returned to Oklahoma after living in California. The stocky righthander spent his first full season in the majors in 1935 with Pittsburgh and was the sensation of the National League that year and led the loop with an earned run average of 2.59. He was tied for the loop lead in shutouts with four.

Blanton was with Pittsburgh until the 1940 season when he was sent to Syracuse of the International League. He was sold to Philadelphia in the National League that year and stayed through 1942. He spent the next two years with Hollywood.

Funeral services will be held Saturday at Shawnee.

No Second for His Hara Kari, Tojo Reports

That Was Reason For Trying Other Suicide Method

By Duane Hennessy

YOKOHAMA, Sept. 13—(AP)—Hideki Tojo, in the first interview since he shot himself two days ago, said today he had planned to kill himself for a long time but that when he saw American officers standing outside his house he "knew the time had come."

The deposed Japanese dictator then shot and wounded himself near the heart with a .32 caliber pistol, but prompt blood transfusions and other treatment by American army doctors saved his life and he was declared today to be in "satisfactory" condition.

In talking today Tojo brushed aside many questions relating to war and politics, but when asked if Saburo Kurosu had known about Pearl Harbor plans when he talked to Cordell Hull about peace, Tojo replied that he could not answer without documentary evidence.

Tojo was registered as Patient No. 10,694 and was the 100th patient admitted Tuesday at the army's 98th Evacuation Hospital.

Pajamas Too Large

He looked little like a dictator as he was interviewed. He was propped up on his bed with a folding chair and pillows behind his back. He was covered by a clean white sheet, but his feet were sticking out. He was dressed in GI pajamas many sizes too large.

Tojo said he felt much better but suffered a little pain "inside," pointing to his left side. Maj. Ebert Elliott of Houston, Tex., said Tojo's condition was considered "quite satisfactory," but later the former war lord's eyes appeared to become slightly glassy and he complained of being tired.

Asked why he decided to shoot himself instead of performing the traditional ceremony of hara kiri, he replied:

"While hara kiri is the traditional manner of ending your life, I feared I might miss."

Had No Second

He explained that the traditional ceremony calls for the performer to bring the knife up and across his stomach, and that a second person stands behind with a sword to cut off his head. He explained, he had no one to carry out the second part.

"I have nothing to say, because it is all being decided by the United States government," he replied when asked how he felt about the fact he must face trial when he recovers.

He said his treatment in the hospital was "good" and that the United States Army was "abiding by international law," in giving him treatment.

Military police guards, his nurse and a Japanese-American interpreter were constantly in the room during the interview.

Huge Planes To Carry 'Champs'

REIMS, France, Sept. 13—(AP)—Traveling in three Flying Fortresses, the European theater baseball champions will leave here Sept. 18 for Italy for their three-out-of-five game series with the champions of the Mediterranean command. The first game is scheduled for Livorno Sept. 20.

"Subway Sam" Nahem manages the Com Z All-Star team, which won the E. T. O. title by defeating the Third army nine. Tony Jaros of Minneapolis, former University of Minnesota first baseman who has been batting at a .411 clip, and Bobby Keane of Brooklyn, who hurled the team to a A-1 victory in the deciding game with the Third army, are the mainstays of the squad.

Nahem has strengthened his team by the addition of several players including Harry Walker of Leeds, Ala., former St. Louis Cardinal and Jim Gladd of Muskogee, Okla., with Jersey City before entering the army.

Wood-Carved Inscription Echo of Raid

(Editor's Note: The following story was received by mail from AP Correspondent Vern Haglund. There was no elaboration.)

SHANGHAI—(AP)—An echo of the raid by Jimmy Doolittle's airmen on Japan April 18, 1942. On the floor of Kiangwan jail, Shanghai, an inmate found this wood-carved inscription in 1944: "Lt. J. R. Meder, USAF 04212 B25 bomber command detail plane No. 3695. Please notify U. S. army life imprisonment."

In the next cell, similarly carved, was this:

"Lt. Barr life imprisonment. This is by far the best place we have been to so far, 1942."

(The war department announced August 22 in Washington the names of four Doolittle raid fliers released from Japanese prison camps at Peiping. Among them was Lt. George Barr, whose sister, Mrs. William Maas, lives at Pittsburg, Kas.)

Brothers Meet on Okinawa

Staff Sergeant "Tommy" Foster had the pleasure recently of having a visit on Okinawa with his younger brother Technical Sergeant "Bob" Foster, according to word from them to their parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Foster of South Ingram avenue.

Sgt. "Tommy" Foster had served in the European area and was transferred to the Pacific. He knew about where his brother was located and when he landed on Okinawa he looked him up, learning they were only about five miles apart.

The 8th and 9th of September they spent together and wrote their mother they thought particularly of her on the 9th because that was her birthday.

Byrnes Talks With Greek Archbishop

Diplomats Say Greeks are Lenient Toward Italy

LONDON, Sept. 13—(AP)—Secretary of State James F. Byrnes talked today with the Greek regent, Archbishop Damaskinos, perhaps about the peace treaty with Italy and Balkan politics.

Byrnes took advantage of a day recess in the conference of five leading Allied foreign ministers. Staff representatives of the United States, Great Britain, Russia, France and China held secret conferences and studied documents which were so complicated as to postpone the third plenary session until Friday.

Diplomats say the Greeks are willing to join the United States and Great Britain in a lenient attitude toward Italy, even though Mussolini attacked the little kingdom.

It is believed that Damaskinos has the assurance of the United States and Britain that Greece will get the Dodecanese islands inhabited largely by Greeks, at the approaches of the Dardanelles.

The Greeks have other territorial claims against Albania and Bulgaria and there seemed little doubt that Byrnes and the regent talked of these.

May Demand Reparations

There were strong indications the Greeks also will insist on reparations from Italy, although the United States and British view is that Italian economy should not be burdened with such payments.

Greek domestic problems are considered linked to the general unrest in the Balkans. It appeared possible that Americans and Britons would discuss these with the Russians, although Moscow refused the invitation of the Potsdam conference to help supervise Greek elections.

France was reported to have offered detailed plans for internationalizing German Ruhr and Rhineland.

A French official said flatly that France had no desire to annex any part of the Rhineland, but wanted it and the Ruhr severed promptly from Germany in time to prevent effectively any resurgence of German nationalism there.

French Requests

The French are reported to be proposing control of Ruhr industries—particularly coal production—by the major powers and a commission of representatives of France, Belgium, Holland, Luxembourg and possibly Britain to administer the Rhineland.

The longer the areas remain an integral part of Germany, the French are said to argue, the more difficult it will be to fix their administration in a manner guaranteeing against future German control. This argument is based upon the premise that control of the Ruhr's industry and the Rhine's traffic should be international, because it affords the domination of western Europe—a power that no single state should hold.

Some of Pearl Harbor Report Still Unknown

Withheld to Protect Sources For Future Use

By Jack Bell

WASHINGTON, Sept. 13—(AP)—The navy has renewed its pleas to senators to keep part of its Pearl Harbor file bottled up.

This was learned today in the wake of reports that Rear Adm. Husband E. Kimmel does not want a court martial during the approaching congressional inquiry into the military disaster.

Kimmel, naval commander at Pearl Harbor when the Japanese struck, was said to have given that reply to a court martial offer from Secretary of the Navy Forrestal. His letter was interpreted by some as leaving the way open to a later trial. Kimmel frequently demanded one in the past.

The matter of the still secret portions of the navy inquiry board's report came up at a closed session of the senate naval committee. Comdr. W. H. English was said to have told members the service fears other nations will learn how it broke the Japanese code if the complete record is made public.

Some for Publicity

The portion involved reportedly contains messages bearing directly on the Pearl Harbor attack. Some committee members said privately they think these ought to be made public.

Without commenting directly on these reports, Chairman Walsh (D-Mess) said the committee will decide soon whether part of the information should be withheld in order to protect sources the navy may want to use in the future.

This course was urged by Forrestal in submitting the full report.

Walsh, however, indicated the committee is likely to decide the matter on this basis: Is the information important enough to the congressional investigation to wave aside the navy's fears?

Its decision probably will come, he said, in a recommendation to the joint congressional inquiry committee of 10 members expected to be named within the next day or two.

Must be Trustworthy

Senator McKellar (D-Tenn) the presiding officer, said he may name the senate's personnel this weekend.

"I have to choose a committee in which the country will have complete confidence," he told a reporter.

Senate Republicans said McKellar has agreed to accept their recommendations for Senators Ferguson (Mich) and Brewster (Me) as minority members.

Senator Barkley of Kentucky, the majority leader, told newsmen he was being urged to head the group but doesn't want to take on the assignment.

Speaker Rayburn (D-Tex) said he might name the five house members today or tomorrow.

Millions Cheer Wainwright

NEW YORK, Sept. 13—(AP)—Cheering millions gave Gen. Jonathan M. Wainwright today one of the greatest welcomes in New York City's history—a thundering ovation that overwhelmed him to the point of disbelief.

Police Inspector John J. O'Connell estimated 6,000,000 persons acclaimed the 62-year-old hero of Corregidor on a triumphal 32-mile motor trip through flag-bedecked streets from La Guardia Field, where he was greeted with a 17-gun salute.

The largest storm of paper the famed financial district ever has seen cascaded down upon the happy and smiling—though plainly surprised—four star general as he rode up lower Broadway to city hall to receive honorary citizenship of New York.

Sports Roundup

By Hugh Fullerton, Jr.

NEW YORK, Sept. 13—(AP)—The four clubs scrapping for the major league pennants have been afflicted with so many ailments and injuries lately that you sometimes wonder whether the athletes or the doctors will decide the races. . . . Here's a quick rundown: Cardinals—Marty Marion, lame back; Ken O'Dea, nerve pain in leg; Ted Wilks, due for operation on arm. . . . Cubs — Phil Cavaretta, back after layoff because of bad shoulder; Heinz Becker, sore feet. . . . Tigers—Eddie Mayo, shoulder and chest strapped up; Hank Greenberg, sprained ankle; Hal Newhouse, pain in back. . . . Senators—Dutch Leonard, lame shoulder. . . . Maybe the explanation is that they started out this year with war-torn 4-F squads.

OBITUARIES

Mary Ann Holsten

Mary Ann Holsten, three weeks old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. To Holsten, route 3, Sedalia, died at the Bothwell hospital at 6:15 o'clock Thursday morning where she had been a patient since September 11.

The body was taken to the Eickhoff funeral home in Cole Camp.

Bread Must Have Added Iron

Federal law now requires enrichment of every loaf of white bread and every pan of plain rolls made by a baker; that is, the bread must contain additional iron and a certain amount of two vitamins—niacin and thiamin. Most diets could be improved by the addition of these vitamins and minerals. At present it is only a wartime measure and 6 months after the war is over the present law will be void. Outstanding doctors and scientists say that this wartime measure has proved worthwhile and recommends that it be continued. The National Research Council says, "The enrichment of flour and bread represents a major improvement in the American diet and is a sound, practical and inexpensive method for the achievement of better national nutrition." Such a goal is most certainly to be prized in peace-time as well as in wartime. Furthermore most of the millers and bakers approve of the addition of these nutrients. The cost of enrichment is small-
